

What is claimed is:

Sub
B1
1. A seat belt with a printed face for a vehicle, in which a printed face of a character, a mark and a pattern is formed at one face of a seat belt formed in 5 a band shape woven with polyester.

2. The seat belt of claim 1, wherein the printed face is made of silicon rubber

10 3. The seat belt of claim 1, wherein the printed face is made of sol ink.

Sub
B1
15 4. The seat belt of claim 1 or 3, wherein the printed face is formed with a multicolor printed pattern.

20 5. The seat belt of claim 2, wherein the silicon composition comprises 8~15 wt % of silicon oil, 2~10 wt % of epoxy silane, 0.5~1.0 wt % of amino silane, 0.1~0.4 wt % of platinum catalyst, 0.3~1.0 wt % of pigment, 1~8
wt % of calcium carbonate ( $\text{CaCO}_3$ ), 2~10 wt % of silica 200 mesh or 300 mesh,
for a silicon liquid phase rubber 100 wt %.

6. The seat belt of claim 1, wherein the printed face is formed by silk printing.

25 7. The seat belt of claim 1, wherein the printed face is formed by a decalcomania.

- 101/
8. A method for printing a seat belt with a printed face for a vehicle, in which the a seat belt made of polyester is conveyed along with a conveyer, and while being conveyed, one face of the seat belt is subject to multicolor-printing and drying by means of print units and dry units respectively installed at equal intervals on the convey path of the conveyer.

add
A2

add B2